Daniel Introduces Tax Relief Bill

WASHINGTON - Fifth District Congressman Dan Daniel has introduced a bill to exclude from income taxation the first $300 of interest on savings account deposits and to further exclude from income for tax purposes the mortgage interest received by banks.

"In the past 18 months, the Congress has passed 6 bills aimed at expanding available housing and at the same time revitalizing the home building industry. None of them has been completely successful. The bill I have introduced will serve a dual purpose of encouraging the return of deposits to lending institutions and offering incentives to these institutions, to lend money for this vital area," Daniel said.

"There is a very real need to make home-buying more available for working Americans. There is no question that high interest rates have been one of the principal factors in the slowdown in the housing market. This bill will assist the prospective homeowner towards trying to save for home-financing and will make loans for this purpose more attractive for lending institutions.

"It will further have the effect of stimulating the housing construction industry, one of the two most depressed categories of employment in the country today. This multiplier effect in other industries can be a further significant factor in getting the economy moving, and people back to work."

In making the announcement, the Congressman noted that the Committee on Ways and Means has pledged to bring out income tax reform in this Congress. "That Committee can take no more salutary step than to use tax reform in the first step to accomplish the twin goals of easing the housing shortage and returning housing to the private sector."

WATT ABBITT HONORED

Commonwealth are quite enough.

Actually, the designation of the former Post Office building, converted some years ago to a federal office building, as the Watkins M. Abbitt building was made several years ago. Only with erection of the new sign last week, did this decision become public information, however.

And the former Congressman was instrumental in the act that made the building transformation possible. It was he who tipped the balance scales in favor of a new Post Office building for Farmville, the one now at E. Third and Virginia.

Thus all the elements point to the rightness of the designation of a name for the federal building. Occasionally, it proves best to honored in his home area, the traditional wisdom notwithstanding.

Miss Carolyn Berkley visited her sisters, Misses Rosetta and Phyllis Berkley in Richmond on last week end and gave account of a very nice trip.

We pray for all the sick and shut-in everywhere. May God bless you.

TOWN COUNCIL WILL OFFER OFFICE SPACE

A contribution not to exceed $150.00 was approved to go toward the Third Annual Appomattox Historic Railroad Day.

The "downtown parking" situaiton was discussed in detail. Persons employed on Main Street are parking all day on Main Street and at the "Depot" parking lot, leaving no space for people to park who want to shop or attend to business.

It was suggested that the parking be limited to 1 hour in this area to ease the situation but no action was taken.

The definite need for a garbage truck body and chassis was once again discussed and cost prices were presented to council by Town Manager Slagle, however, Mayor Henry Pack stated that he was not in favor of purchasing this equipment so no action was taken.

In other business, the following summary of the activities of the Office of Building and Housing in the Town of Appomattox was given for the month of April: Thomas E. LeGrand, install 200 amp service; James E. Smith, install 150 amp service; Marvin J. House, enclose carport; Times-Virginia, partition off offices and install 400 amp service; Liberty Baptist Church, install 200 amp service; Bennett T. Matthews, erect three new dwellings.

Adults Need To Help With Muscular Dystrophy Walkathon

The Appomattox Area 4-H Muscular Dystrophy Walkathon will be held Saturday, May 24. The walk begins at the Appomattox Primary School and will proceed along a 10 mile route. All money raised through the walkathon will be donated to the Muscular Dystrophy Association where it will be used to conduct research on Muscular Dystrophy, a muscle destroying disease which disables its victims, so weakening them that a common cold can sometimes kill them.

Anyone can get it, though its chief victims are children. In addition to research, the M.D. Association sponsors camps and other services for people afflicted with the disease.

Adult volunteers are needed to assist with the registration of participants and supervision along the route which we will be walking. We are also urging you to let your children take part in this activity. If you can help, contact Frank Sweet or Darnell Goldman at the Appomattox County Extension Office, 352-8244. If anyone planning to walk on that day needs additional sponsor cards, contact us at the same number.

A bicycle will be awarded to the individual walker raising the most money for the Walkathon. We're counting on you!

Historical Markers Booklet Now Available to Public

The Virginia State Travel Service recently announced that the Virginia Association of Realtors, in honor of the Bicentennial, has begun issuing a revised version of the popular guidebook, "State Historical Markers of Virginia." First published in 1930, it was a widely popular text until the final edition appeared in 1948. Because historical markers are permanent, the book will have lasting value. Included in the new enlarged edition (300 pages) are the several which are located in Appomattox County, among these one being the newest one near the train station. Quantities of less than 100 are available at a cost of $3.00 each and may be obtained from the Va. Association of Realtors, 11 South 10th Street, Richmond, Va. 23219.

Hearing and Speech Month

May is observed nationally as Hearing and Speech Month, a month with hearing, speech and language are much more common, than most people realize. In fact, one out of every ten Americans suffers from some communicative disorder. The really sad thing is that many of these problems go untreated. Help is available. With proper treatment, most communicatively handicapped persons can overcome their problems. And that is what Hearing and Speech Month is all about.

Symbolizing the hopes and aspirations of approximately 20 million communicatively handicapped Americans is three-year-old Erich Damon Clark from Washington, D.C. Erich is the National Poster Child of the National Association of Hearing and Speech Action. Meningitis struck Erich when he was 11 months old leaving him deaf. He is now enrolled in the pre-school deaf program at Galludet College and is making remarkable progress. Erich typifies many children who have benefitted from early detection of a communicative handicap and from specialized professional help.

Hearing and Speech Month is sponsored by national agencies, local speech and hearing centers, speech pathologists, audiologists, interested professionals and parents from all sectors of our country.

One of the simplest ways to get more from your air conditioner according to Emerson Quiet Kool, is to wash your filter at least once a month. A dirty filter causes reduced air flow and can cause unit efficiency to drop as much as 5 per cent and increase your utility bills accordingly.
